

Human Identity Summit Part 2

Empowering Human Society

The process of indestructible clarity identity is summed up in education and empowerment of society. Education refers to the process of educating oneself and all of society in clarity—the very powerful, balanced view. This takes place through the Four Mainstays of Balanced View. The first mainstay is the simple practice of short moments of clarity; this is the key button to press for everyone.

The second is the written instructions which radically increase the momentum and power of clarity. Again, everyone receives exactly the instructions needed to empower clarity's beneficial, prosperous, generous qualities and activities.

The third are the trainers who support each individual in optimizing the instructions for powerful everyday use.

The fourth is the worldwide Balanced View. On all continents, in local communities and online, Balanced View cultivates powerful community. Within clarity community, we see how it works for everyone to rely on the Four Mainstays to create potent solutions for change, individual and collective—this is the actual empowerment of society from the grassroots.

Rather than focusing on points of view, we suggest solutions that we ourselves can implement. For example, if we want a Center in our local area, we build it ourselves with the support of the Center experts on the Balanced View management team. We take complete responsibility for development of a strong, healthy local community by emphasizing the importance of the Four Mainstays. The strength of our local Balanced View community depends on the Four Mainstays. This is a simple structure that really works to unite people all over the world.

At the local community level, each individual has complete responsibility for maintaining the vitality of the community by relying on the Four Mainstays. This is very important. It is an absolute key. The Four Mainstays create an indestructible culture of gratitude and respect which is quite distinct from the way society usually operates. Thus, when we enter into the indestructible clarity community, the commitment to the power of the community is found only in the Four Mainstays. We utilize the Four Mainstays to get into action exhibiting the power of clarity to create revolutionary change in human identity.

Each community throughout the world elects a group delegate who represents their activities at the annual World Service Conference. The Balanced View organization is a grassroots organization. It is built from the grassroots of human society by individuals like you and me who together show the world a powerful new human identity—indestructible clarity.

These are the Four Mainstays—clarity, training, trainer, community—and together they form the indestructible vehicle of clarity.

The Four Mainstays are like four legs of a chair. The chair must have all four legs otherwise it is of no use. If a chair has less than four legs, it will take a great deal of energy to sit in it and it will be of no real support. It will be more effort than it is worth to try to sit in the chair. However, when the chair has all four legs, we can rely on it, without any effort, without anything needing to be done. The chair is available and we can count on it.

Likewise, in the practice of indestructible clarity, all Four Mainstays are required for radical empowerment of the individual and for radical empowerment of all of society. When all Four Mainstays are present, everyone is mutually strong and empowered by clarity.

Even though it has taken human society millions of years to get to the point of recognition of clarity, this momentum will quickly take over all of society and many of us sitting here today will live to see happy, healthy human society. Like each drop of rainfall produces the power of mighty rivers, lakes and oceans, each person who practices clarity creates a powerful sane human culture. It is up to you and it is up to me. Together, we are a powerful society. We empower society through clarity; we create a great, indivisible force of clarity.

Instinctive clarity is always-on.

1. Write today's training.
2. Describe the importance of the Four Mainstays to me as an individual? To my local community? Online? To human society and planet earth?
