

Human Identity Summit Part 5

Mutual Clarity Power

In open clarity, tremendous benefit is freely given and received. Clarity's viewpoints are the actual fulfillment of clarity's nature, decisively cutting through all notions of lack. The here-and-now is as it is—the gift of clarity. By the power of short moments, all woes are outshone, first individually and then collectively. This is our power and strength, the great shining forth of clarity's pervasive beneficial nature. Each point of view is the birth of great bliss, a wide open generosity that provides specially for everyone, without exception, in all points of view.

All viewpoints flow on by and clarity is shining forth from within all, welcoming all as its natural treasury, its beneficial power and energy.

Just as space presents a 100% commitment to receiving the liveliness of everything within it, so clarity is 100% committed to the here-and-now. Clarity's view is forever seamless, flawless and potent within all points of view. Space has no resistance to filling itself with mirage-like here-and-now, vanishing naturally without a trace into the continuity of clarity's care. Each here-and-now is the exclamation of clarity.

Clarity's view is instinctively recognized, a steady instantaneous recognition of the way things actually are.

Likewise in openly allowing viewpoints to be as they are, they turn into the potency of humanity's own stable beneficial mind, body, speech, qualities and activities. Rather than emphasizing any given viewpoint, we simply let everything be as it is. Discovered shining forth from within viewpoints is clarity's great power and benefit! What a wondrous marvel this is! By profound short moments, we open to very powerful intelligence that is inaccessible when relying on viewpoints.

www.balancedview.com

Money viewpoints are the call of clarity, calling us to untold riches, not to work harder to make more money. By letting money viewpoint be as it is, the door to the clarity treasury opens up and its all-providing energy replaces the exhaustion of making money and accumulating things. Instead super-beneficial body, speech, mind, qualities and activities are filled with clarity potency devoted to all, giving everything that is required without limit or restriction. The surety of clarity replaces the constant mental muttering about money. In radical clarity's simultaneous receiving and giving, we are released from a constant sense of lack and imperfection into clarity prosperity and infinite generosity.

In this way, even sickness, aging and death viewpoints are the vivid potency of all-soothing, extremely potent clarity, like the force of the ocean is inseparable from the ocean itself.

Each point of view is clarity's song—clarity calling clarity, the potent inseparability of like and like.

By mutual clarity power, we instinctively know how to be mentally and emotionally stable and powerful together. Right now, we know how to build a just and sane society with resources for all. We see it right here. Clarity shows us very personally that all resources are already available, infinitely, simply by relying on clarity. Clarity is the greatest natural resource and its wealth of offerings continuously gives more and more. The more power that is extracted from clarity, the more it has to offer.

Clarity and service are inseparable—clarity in service, service in clarity—the first of the essential four mainstays and comforts. In each moment of clarity, we serve ourselves and all beings, completely.

In allowing point of view (the here-and-now) to be as it is, we relax within all our own viewpoints, thus we open to the great mutuality of clarity's view and viewpoints, the potent heart of all relating. Without its viewpoints, clarity would not be.

Viewpoints are the power of clarity. When point of view is instinctively recognized as it is, there is no restriction of the power of clarity, and it increases in potency each moment. Although this potency may be subtle at first, clarity power increases each and every moment when we are committed to its obviousness. We carry on, head held high, counting on clarity, as it becomes obvious that it is the ruler of all we behold. This is the only means of extracting the power from humanity's viewpoints.

When all viewpoints are allowed to be as they are, mutually we see that in each moment, we are the vast lively intelligence of clarity containing all viewpoints, not just our own. Each moment of clarity is simultaneously giving and receiving all viewpoints of the here-and-now, all at once, seamlessly, like the powerful ocean gives and receives all drops of water. Without drops of water, the great force of the ocean would not be, without viewpoints, clarity would not be. In clarity, all viewpoints whatsoever are simultaneously received and given in a great flow of benefit.

All negativity of all kinds, individual and collective, is overcome, exhausted and outshone by the uncontrived means of instinctive clarity. Clarity in the current viewpoint unleashes the greatest power and natural resource in the world, for the benefit and enjoyment of all.

The four mainstays of clarity—the foremost instruction, the education informing all others, the one that is core in every way, that comes out at the front of all other kinds of education, the one that actually has the ability to get right into our body, speech, mind, qualities and activities and unlock the power to benefit for all.

Human Identity Summit: Mutual Clarity Power, Part 5

Instinctive clarity is always-on.

1. Write today's training.
2. What is the basis of potent body, speech, mind, qualities and activities? What are your most afflictive points of view (let it all hang out!)? How is it instinctively recognized that the culmination of spontaneous prosperity and benefit shine forth within these very most afflictive states?