

Human Identity Summit Part 8

Blowing Open Pleasure

Now about sex!

Blissful pleasure without cause is natural identity, potent benefit its display. The clarity blast blows everything into wide open clarity, devouring all pleasure-related viewpoints in great bliss.

In instinctive clarity, pleasure is no longer associated with specific activities. No longer directed like puppets to strive for pleasure, carefree beneficial qualities and activities spontaneously emerge. The great cheering up of society in clarity uninstalls the puppet program of continuous pleasure-seeking and simultaneously installs unending bliss. Blissful pleasure is always fully loaded in all circumstances, the operating system of identity.

Causality is a point of view. Truly real pleasure does not come from a cause. Instinctive clarity is pleasure's magnificent mate. Since instinctive clarity is not a product of any condition, it is delightfully and potently present. Simply resting without contrivance in clarity, our full force and pleasure-power is spontaneously obvious. All viewpoints are nothing but clarity pleasure enjoying itself.

Instinctive clarity deletes forever the viewpoint that pleasure comes only from causal circumstances such as food, money, sex, work, romance, friendships, family, entertainment, and so forth. Thus, empowered to truly enjoy all of these with an attitude of carefree openness and responsibility, we carry on living with great ease no matter what comes about. Benefit, prosperity and generosity replace constant lack and search for satisfaction and fulfillment.

When a sensory twinge or urge is automatically described as sexual or erotic, clarity ignorance holds sway, unfolding a confusing story about these points of view. From the moment of birth, we teach ourselves to describe certain bodily sensations, thoughts, emotions and other experiences as sexual or erotic by nature. When these viewpoints are granted an independent nature they create chaos and extremely confused states that are lifelong. By the time puberty is reached, complete confusion sets in. Puberty is actually the period for fully recognizing, launching and spontaneously demonstrating the great power of benefit to be displayed by a mature human. When the potent sexual urges and surges of childhood and adolescence are misidentified as real and independently existent, a lifetime of bewilderment and diminished energy ensues.

Alternatively, if clarity is trained up as the nature of all erotic or sexual viewpoints, then instinctive clarity is discovered to be the potent erotic situation we feel driven to find. Only clarity is the basis for enduring relationship of any kind, otherwise all relating—individual and collective—is fundamentally driven to indulge, avoid or replace the great variety of erotic or sexual viewpoints.

Erotic impulse itself, like all viewpoints, rests in self-arising pleasure and bliss. These are the most profound of the profound instructions. They contain the most essential point because radiant pleasure appears directly. Make this your identity and carry on in a powerfully beneficial way. Not contriving anything, clarity luminosity appears as direct experience, the transparent here-and-now undoes itself in the great release of pure pleasure. Clarity pleasure and bliss is the ultimate indestructible vehicle, the outshining of viewpoints in the view.

Clarity bright energy, self-aware, original potent intelligence, instinctive pleasure and benefit shine forth immediately as the current moment. No need to wait for a result to ripen later. This liberates here-and-now. It is the force that frees here-and-now in blissful accord.

Viewpoints arise as clarity pleasure already, so as a result viewpoints are already liberated. Instinctively recognize the clarity view, and viewpoints are beloved self-arising pleasure.

2. What did I learn to be the sources of pleasure? What viewpoints did I learn about erotic urges and surges? How has the support of the Four Mainstays clarified erotic or sexual viewpoints? (Give specific examples for each of how short moments of clarity, the teacher, the teaching and the community have supported resolution in clarity of erotic or sexual viewpoints). How has instinctive clarity changed my actions related to pleasure-seeking?
